DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 12-19, 21, 22, 34-41, 43 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ritter et al. US #6,361,075 in view of McCarty et al. US Pub. 2003/0156688 A1.

3. Ritter teaches notepad retention member 10 that retains notepad 14 and includes indicator (light) 20 which may be activated to inform a user that a note is waiting (column 2 lines 58-63). The indicator may also include a speaker for sounding an audible alarm for a user (column 3 lines 1-3). Ritter does not teach a motion sensor for activating the indicator, however such sensors are well known in the art as shown by McCarty. McCarty teaches motion sensor 140 (Figure 1) for triggering an indicator [0008]. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to utilize a motion sensor as shown in McCarty et al. in the device of Ritter et al. so that the indicator may be automatically started when someone is nearby, as is taught by McCarty et al.

4. Regarding claim 14, McCarty et al. teach the controller as preventing subsequent playback until a preset time period has elapsed.

5. Turning the light on and off is considered to be a pattern.

Art Unit: 3611

6. The inside of the retention member is considered to be a supply storage cavity.

Sheath 16 includes lip 38 which is considered to be a photograph retention member.

7. Claims 20 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ritter et al. and McCarty et al. as applied to claims 12 and 34 above, and further in view of Enriquez, US #6,364,126.

8. Ritter et al. and McCarty et al. do not teach a writing implement retention member, however this is well known in the art. Enriquez teaches a display device including writing implement 52. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize this feature so as to provide additional usefulness for the device, such as a means for writing notes.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 1-11 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 12-22 and 34-44 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

11. Ritter et al. has been applied to show a notepad holder with an indicator.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
